You will have time to ask a seasoned ACP member about their experience and feedback regarding the topics. Recordings of previous Virtual Classrooms are also available on ACPConnect in the ACP Success Program Library, and can be accessed any time you want more information. Only live Virtual Classrooms qualify for CEs, and you must be present for the entirety of the virtual classroom in order to receive credit.

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Virtual Classroom calls include a feature that allows audio and any documents and other materials exchanged or viewed during the session to be recorded. By joining this session, you automatically consent to such recordings. If you do not consent to the recording, please do not join the session.

ACP Success Program Overview

This guide is designed to assist you through the ACP Success Program in six months.

The ACP Success Program is a part of the ACP System™ and teaches a systematic approach to comprehensive financial planning based on ACP's core philosophies. It suggests a series of sequential appointments, and then provides details on how to plan, structure, and conduct these appointments. For each appointment there are a variety of supporting documents, forms, and tools that you can use to streamline business operations, allowing you to concentrate your thoughts and efforts on the actual work of financial planning. While you participate in the ACP Success Program you are encouraged to contact the ACP Membership Manager Kevin Groves whenever you have questions or need support. Kevin can help you set realistic and manageable goals, navigate the many tools and resources available, and provide you with guidance so you get the most out of your training. He is your primary point of contact when you first join ACP and can connect you with the appropriate staff and members as needed.

Kevin can be reached at 910.769.1569 and kevin@acplanners.org.

Self-Study Module with Quizzes

Self-Study is the first step in your training and is available in electronic form on ACPCONnect. ACP suggests you read through the modules in chronological order, completing each quiz as you go. Email the quiz(zes) to your ACP membership manager who will grade and return them, as well as inform you of available CE credits. You may choose to do the Bennett Case Study assignments that pertain to each chapter as you go along, or later in your training.

Virtual Classrooms

The Virtual Classrooms are a series of webinars that reinforce and supplement the information you are learning in the self-study materials. The Virtual Classroom schedule and registration information are available on ACPCONnect and through your ACP membership manager. Recordings of previous Virtual Classrooms are also available on ACPCONnect in the ACP Success Program Library and can be accessed any time you want more information. Only live Virtual Classrooms qualify for CEs, and you must be on the webinar for the entirety of the presentation in order to receive credit.

Group Instruction

Group Instruction is a four-day face-to-face live training you attend with other new members of ACP. The timing and location of Group Instruction varies, so please ask your ACP membership manager for more details. Group Instruction reinforces the knowledge and skills developed through the self-study materials and Virtual Classrooms. Particular attention is given to the Preliminary, Presentation, Portfolio Analysis, Goals Visualization, and Investment Strategy and Implementation Appointments, as well as the importance of taxes in comprehensive financial planning. You will be given six case studies that will need to be looked over and started prior to Group Instruction. New members say Group Instruction serves to "connect all the dots." They leave more enthusiastic than ever about the ACP System™.

Requirements for Attending Group Instruction

In order to attend Group Instruction, you need to read the chapters and pass the quizzes in the self-study materials that will be covered at Group Instruction. The modules are: The Preliminary Appointment, The Presentation Appointment, Integrating Taxes, The Portfolio Analysis Appointment, The Goals Visualization Appointment, and The Investment Strategy and Implementation Appointment. In addition, please read two other chapters of your choosing from the self-study materials and pass the associated quizzes. You must also participate in the Virtual Classrooms pertaining to each appointment. If you cannot attend a live Virtual Classroom on a specific appointment, you must watch a recorded version, which is available on ACPConnect in the ACP Success Program Library.

Bennett Case Study (optional)

You can submit a comprehensive financial plan based on the Bennett Case Study Fact Pattern to demonstrate your understanding of the teachings in the ACP Success Program. With minor modifications, this plan also may be submitted to NAPFA to meet their membership requirements. Members who have already written a comprehensive case study may be able to submit that instead of the Bennett Case Study, but this will need to be confirmed by the ACP membership manager on a case-by-case basis.

Requirements for Completing the ACP Success Program

In order to complete the ACP Success Program, you must read all of the chapters in the self-study materials and pass all of the quizzes associated with the chapters. You must also attend or watch the Virtual Classrooms, attend Group Instruction. The Bennett Case Study demonstrates that you have mastered the ability to produce a comprehensive financial plan. You can use this case study with minor modifications to fulfill your NAPFA requirement for membership.

Additional Benefits

ACP Mentoring Program

New members will be matched with seasoned ACP members that have similar backgrounds, areas of interest, and have experienced similar pain points. This relationship is a cornerstone of ACP's philosophy and a unique component of our membership.

Coaching

ACP offers a coaching program to assist new members in developing their business and marketing plans. The coaching typically begins after Group Instruction or when the new member is ready to begin their ACP practice, but must begin within one year of completing Group Instruction. The membership manager will connect the members with the appropriate coach.

Compliance Support

Compliance Consultation: Two Hours

Within the first two years of membership, a member is allotted two hours of compliance consultation with Lori Neidel, the ACP compliance attorney. The two hours do not have to be taken all at once. The consultant charges for a one-hour minimum, but if one hour is not needed, they will offer the remainder of the hour at another time, if taken within 60 days. If the new member requires more than two hours, they will be charged a reduced rate.

New Member Compliance Webinar

An initial two-hour webinar will be offered to new members. The webinar is tailored to new advisors or advisors with only a few years in business.

Marketing Support

Need help putting your marketing plan together? The Successful Marketing Manual walks you step-by-step through the process of creating your marketing plan. The Successful Marketing Workbook contains worksheets to (1) help you think through your vision, your goals, your strengths, and your message; (2) plan out and track your marketing activities and results; and (3) sample sell sheets that can be personalized.

Marketing Webinars

ACP members are invited to attend a monthly one-hour group coaching webinar which will help support you during your first-year growth. Marketing experts from Impact Communications will strategize with you about branding, marketing, PR, social media, content creation, and more. Additionally, they will offer real-time advice to benefit everyone on the webinar call that day. Calls will be recorded and posted on ACPCConnect so that you can access and replay the monthly recordings on demand.

After your first year, Impact Communications will continue their support by offering marketing webinars. These webinars, which are open to all ACP members, will focus on important marketing discussion topics and include fresh examples of new industry tools and ideas.

Marketing Training Modules

ACP members may access a special four-part virtual training series produced by Impact Communications. The marketing modules lay out a framework for consistently creating new business opportunities and answer questions such as:

- When does it make sense to place an advertisement – and how do I make sure my money is well spent?
- How important is social media in my marketing plan – and what's essential to get started?
- Why is building a strong online presence and creating thoughtful, original content the most important element in a comprehensive marketing plan?
- What are journalists looking for – and how can I participate and get quoted as an expert in credible media outlets?

Continuing Education (CE) Information for ACP Success Program

Continuing education (CE) credits can be earned for the various components of the ACP Success Program, including self-study modules, group instruction, and virtual classrooms. There are also CE credits to be earned throughout the year via webinars and at the annual conference. You will be notified via ACP announcements and the online community of upcoming opportunities where you can earn CE credit. Please note that successful completion of the self-study modules and CE credits are only available if you have scored 70% or above on the module quiz. Details Regarding the Various CE Boards

CFP® Board

If you are currently a CFP®, or are seeking your license, please ensure we have your CFP® Board ID# and we will submit a record of your CE credits and attendance on your behalf.

IRS

If you are an EA or need IRS CE credit, please ensure we have your PTIN# and we will submit a record of your CE credits and attendance on your behalf.

NASBA

If you are a CPA/PFS, you are responsible for submitting your own CPE credits to the appropriate boards of accountancy, but you will receive certificates from us.

NAPFA

We do not submit any CE credits to NAPFA for you. Their system is basically an honor system and financial advisors are responsible for deciding what subject categories CE activities represent and what they consider to be appropriate/valuable for their own continuing professional education. We offer guidance on how you can possibly submit certain programs for CE credit to them, but it is not guaranteed that you will get approval. The only programs that are certain are the ones we have designated CFP®, as these are approved by the CFP® Board. You can submit any CFP®-approved programs and anything else you think would qualify for CE credit to NAPFA – but this is your choice and up to their discretion for approval.

Each week of the Self-Study Program covers a topic that has been divided into action items. - Explain and illustrate the Open Retainer Agreement
- Tie the benefits of the retainer to your client's hot buttons
- Complete a cost-benefit Analysis to quantify the value you provide
- "Close" the prospects – get them to sign on as clients

Module Four

The Getting to Know Your Client Appointment

Getting to know your client is one of the most important aspects of what we do as financial planners. The purpose of this appointment is to elicit information from your client about their financial and life goals, dreams, needs, family, and future. Gathering this information means we need to do more than listen to what our clients have to say. We have to be prepared to ask them questions that help us form a well-developed picture of their money and their attitudes, and how the two are related.

The Getting to Know Your Client Appointment focuses on information gathering and looks at the client's past, present, and future relationship with money, and can enhance or complement The Goals Visualization Appointment. At the end of Getting to Know Your Client Module, you should be able to:

- Gather information about your client's past, present, and future relationship with money
- Help your client understand his or her money personality
- Evaluate your client's financial well-being
- Articulate the five most common life goals that people have

Module Five

Integrating Taxes

Our goal for this module is to incorporate integrating taxes into the planning process. To do so, you are expected to:

- Demonstrate an understanding of common tax-saving strategies used during tax preparation and planning
- Demonstrate an understanding of the issues surrounding amending tax returns for new clients
- Develop policies and procedures for your practice which will help you conduct efficient and effective tax-related appointments

Module Six

The Portfolio Analysis Appointment

The Portfolio Analysis Appointment gives the advisor an opportunity to more fully understand the client's current financial picture and to educate the client on Functional Asset Allocation, the Financial Life Cycle, and the Five Fundamentals of Fiscal Fitness. During this appointment the advisor introduces the client to the ACP Pyramid and fills it out by conducting an investment inventory of the client's assets and liabilities. Using the ACP Pyramid, the advisor analyzes a client's current asset allocation and determines their stage in the Financial Life Cycle.

When you have finished this module you should:

- Be able to evaluate a client's existing portfolio
- Be thoroughly familiar with the ACP Pyramid
- Be able to conduct an investment inventory with your client
- Understand the basics of Functional Asset Allocation

Module Seven

The Record Keeping and Cash Flow Appointment

This module introduces you to tools you can use to help clients track where their cash goes and how to arrange their money to have cash flow and savings organized automatically. After finishing this module you should be able to:

- Assemble a tool box of record keeping and cash flow tools
- Understand each client's record keeping "personality"
- Understand the Financial Independence Account Plan
- Understand when and how to use the ACP Cash Flow Management Spreadsheet
- Develop ways to explain the Cash Flow by Life Cycle Stage diagram to clients
- Develop explanations for the record keeping and cash flow tools
- Understand the flow of the appointment

Module Eight

The Insurance Review Appointment

The ACP System™ approach to insurance is based on the belief that insurance should be used only to cover true economic risk. These materials and the core tools related to insurance are presented from that perspective. The goal for this module is for you to:

- Learn to use the ACP core insurance tools to develop an insurance portfolio that covers true economic risk
- Learn to conduct an efficient Insurance Review Appointment
- Learn to identify the most commonly needed features in life, health, disability, auto, and homeowner policies

Module Nine

The Estate Planning Appointment

This module discusses another opportunity to add value to your services by concentrating on each aspect of your client's entire financial life and setting yourself apart from and above other financial professionals. The goal of this module is for you to:

- Learn how to identify good estate planning attorneys and establish professional relationships with them
- Know where to find specific information about your state's probate procedures and estate tax laws
- Learn how to prepare your client for a meeting with an estate planning attorney
- Learn about avoiding (via trusts) or embracing probate
- Learn about some important issues concerning current estate planning law

Module Ten

The Retirement Planning Appointment

This module covers two different retirement planning philosophies, the probability-based philosophy and the safety-first philosophy as well as their associated retirement funding methodologies. Both approaches are incorporated into the ACP Retirement Analyzer, which can be used to answer many different questions about your clients' financial preparedness for retirement and is adaptable to clients in a wide variety of situations. The goal of this module is for you to:

- To understand the importance of periodically reviewing a client's retirement plan
- To understand retirement planning philosophies and funding methodologies, and how they are reflected in the ACP Retirement Analyzer
- To learn how the ACP Retirement Analyzer functions and the questions it can be used to answer
- To understand ACP's retirement planning methodology

Module Eleven

The Goals Visualization Appointment

This module guides you through The Goals Visualization Appointment. This appointment is one of the features of the ACP System™ which sets us apart from other financial planners. We will discuss approaches you can use to help change your clients' lives. This appointment is scheduled after all other initial-year appointments, except The Investment Strategy and Implementation Appointment. This should give you enough time to collect the information you need for the appointment as well as give your clients time to know you and become comfortable sharing at this deep level. At the end of The Goals Visualization Appointment you should be able to:

- Gain a comfortable understanding of the purpose and flow of the Goals Visualization exercise
- Modify the visualization script to make it your own
- Know how to use the Summary Statement of Goals from the Personal Financial Guide
- Know how to use the web-based Goals and Values Inventory
- Begin to build a toolbox of goal-setting techniques for a variety of personality types

Module Twelve

The Investment Strategy and Implementation Appointment

The ACP approach to investing, and the tools that help you implement it, sets you apart from other financial planners and investment managers. During the Investment Strategy and Implementation Appointment, you will determine the client's appropriate risk exposure and devise an investment strategy to achieve their goals. Master the information presented in this module and its associated resources and you will offer your clients tremendous value and true peace of mind.

Unlike most of the other modules in this self-study guide, the Investment Strategy and Implementation Appointment module relies heavily on you reading, viewing, and listening to an assortment of associated resources. What we give you here is a study guide to help you work through those resources. This chapter also references materials already covered in the Portfolio Analysis Module.

This chapter covers Investment Fundamentals, which will help you understand the basic ACP investment philosophy in order to effectively communicate it to your clients, and Investment Strategy where you apply the basic ACP investment philosophy to a client's portfolio under different scenarios. Virtual Classroom sessions will help to reinforce your self-study work, and real-life investment strategy practice will be a focus area in the Group Instruction.

Module Thirteen

The Bond Ladder Strategy and Implementation

The bond ladder is an integral part of functional asset allocation and investment strategy over the financial life cycle. This module will provide the most benefit to those who have completed and practiced using the ACP Pyramid, Investment Implementation, and the Retirement Analyzer. A sound understanding of those fundamentals will provide the necessary foundation to understand how the bond ladder is an integral part of the overall ACP strategy to provide peace of mind and safety from exogenous events to clients as they approach financial independence and retirement. At the end you should understand the following concepts:

- Role and function of bond ladder in functional asset allocation/investment philosophy
- Relationship of bond ladder to retirement cash flow
- When and how to build a bond ladder
- Replenishing the bond ladder in retirement

Module Fourteen

The Renewal Years

This module will explore what services to offer during renewal years, how to structure your appointments, and how to continue to demonstrate value to clients so they come back year after year.
